

Gap Filler!

Read the below text. Can you fill the gaps with the words in the list below?

More than 1,000 celebrities , government employees and politicians who have received honours had their (1) _____ and (2) _____ addresses posted on a government website , the Guardian can reveal . The accidental (3) _____ of the tranche of personal details is likely to be considered a significant security breach , particularly as senior police and Ministry of Defence staff were among those whose addresses were made public . Many of the more than a dozen MoD employees and senior counter - terrorism officers who received honours in the (4) _____ year list had their home addresses revealed in a downloadable list , along with countless others who may believe the disclosure has put them in a vulnerable position . Others included Jonathan Jones , the permanent secretary of the government 's legal department , and John Manzoni , the Cabinet Office (5) _____ secretary . Less well - known figures included academics , Holocaust survivors , (6) _____ staff and community and faith leaders . It is thought the document seen by the Guardian , which contains the details of 1,097 people , went online at 10.30pm on Friday and was taken down in the early (7) _____ of Saturday . The vast majority of people on the list had their house numbers , street names and postcodes included . A Cabinet Office spokesperson apologised for the error and said it had reported itself to the Information Commissioner 's Office . " A version of the new year honours 2020 list was published in error which contained recipients ' addresses , " the spokesperson said . "The information was removed as soon as possible . We apologise to all those affected and are looking into how this happened . We have reported the matter to the ICO and are contacting all those affected directly . " "I could n't quite believe my eyes at first , " she said . " I thought maybe that 's just what they do . But then I checked past spreadsheets and saw there was nothing on those and I realised this must have been a catastrophic mistake . " Experts said the (8) _____ of the breach made it difficult to remedy . " This could be catastrophic , " said prominent data rights lawyer Ravi Naik . " It is hard to put the information genie back in the bottle once it 's out . This quite (9) _____ (10) _____ will spread like a virus and is extremely difficult to remedy . "There is also a (11) _____ risk to Ministry of Defence staff and I hope the Cabinet Office will be taking steps to remedy that . But you ca n't get everyone to move house . "He added : " It 's important to find out how many times that list was downloaded . You would hope they are taking appropriate steps to limit the damage and work backwards from who downloaded the list . "Silkie Carlo , the director of Big Brother Watch , said : " It 's extremely (12) _____ to see that the government does n't have a basic grip on data protection , and that people receiving some of the highest (13) _____ have been put at risk because of this . "It 's a farcical and inexcusable mistake , especially given the new Data Protection Act passed by the government last year - it clearly ca n't stick by its rules . "The shadow Cabinet Office minister , Jon Trickett , said : " If the government ca n't get sensitive details right then how can it possibly expect us to believe that it can sort out the (14) _____ issues facing the country . This (15) _____ of incompetence is unacceptable . "The Cabinet Office is responsible for supporting the National Security Council and the Joint Intelligence Organisation . It coordinates the government 's response to (16) _____ and manages the UK 's cybersecurity . The ICO , which can (17) _____ organisations for data breaches , said : " In response to reports of a data breach involving the Cabinet Office and the (18) _____ year honours list , the ICO will be making inquiries .
